St. Michael the Archangel,
 defend us in battle,
 Be our protection against the wickedness and snares
 of the Devil.
 May God rebuke him,
 we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Hosts,
 by the Power of God,
 cast into hell Satan,
 and all the evil spirits,
 who prowl throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls.

Amen.

This has been a Lent like no other. I think we can all agree on that. This year it might feel a little like Easter is tarnished with the thought of all those who are mourning loved ones claimed by the virus. The thought of those who have lost a job or are unexpectedly hospitalized also seems to color our view of Easter joy this year. The reality of so many Catholics who have been deprived of the sacraments for weeks on end, even being separated from the Lord on the day of His resurrection, this too obscures the beautiful rays of the Easter Sunday sunrise. Rather than give voice to our song of “Alleluia,” perhaps many Catholics are wondering, with Mary Magdalene, “Where have they taken my Lord?”

It would be saccharine and dishonest to attempt to celebrate Easter this year while trying to ignore the startling realities of our time. However, I believe that these very realities, while they are cause of pain, can actually allow us a purer vision of what we celebrate at Easter. Just as the penances of Lent are meant to bring spiritual things into sharper focus, so too can the trials of our time serve as a instrument of God. This instrument opens our eyes to the reality that this world has nothing to offer us. If our happiness is rooted in it, then we are building on shifting sand. The deprivation of material comforts, even the suffering of illness and death, these serve as a necessary contrast so that we may place our hope in what is eternal, and that alone. It is by relinquishing any hope that we have placed in worldly things that we are properly prepared to enjoy all that Christ offers us by His resurrection. Many have expressed to me their pain at being deprived of the sacraments. This pain too helps us to appreciate anew that the sacraments are the rich fruit of the cross of Christ. As potent as they are, they too are veiled realities—in heaven we will experience the fullness. Don’t get me wrong, the sacraments are necessary for our salvation, nothing can substitute for them in this life. But in the life to come, when we all (please God!) enter the glory of the Resurrection, what we will then enjoy will satisfy us to the innermost core. The unveiled vision of God and the perfect experience of His love.

Easter this year, is our opportunity not to “take a break” from the suffering of our world at this current time. But instead, to bear the pain of our current time in such a way that allows us to rejoice in the heavenly things God promises. Therefore, for those of us who have such a heavenly hope within us, let us direct our hope and our joy toward suffering the woes of this present time in a uniquely Christian manner. Only Christ can redeem suffering and make good flow from it! As we find ways to suffering joyfully, to serve generously, to pray devoutly, to preach enthusiastically and all the rest, we not only increase our reward in heaven to come, but we preach the authentic message of Easter! Christus vincit! Christ is victorious!

Happy Easter,
Fr. O’Brien
