OUR LADY OF PROMPT SUCCOR, HASTEN TO HELP US

Our Father in heaven, through the powerful intercession of Our Lady of Prompt Succor, spare us from all harm during these current times and the hurricane season.

Please protect us, our family, our homes and businesses from all disasters, especially those of nature.

Our Lady of Prompt Succor, hasten to help us.

~ Amen.

BLESSING BAGS

We are collecting items for blessing bags! They will be made available for parishioners to pick up on Gaudete Sunday. The goal is to make the bags useful and compact - perfect to keep in your car for when you encounter a member of the body of Christ in need! The following items can be dropped off in the rectory.

- Gallon Ziploc bags
- Water bottles
- Granola bars
- Peanut butter crackers
- New socks
- Hand Sanitizer
- Individual packs of tissues

We especially are in need of new socks, small hand sanitizer and individual packs of tissues.

~ Charitable Giving ~
via a Qualified Charitable Distribution

If the IRS rules require you to take required minimum distributions from your tax-deferred retirement account, you can reduce your annual taxable income by making a direct transfer of funds from your IRA to St. Patrick Church and/or St. John the Baptist Church. Amounts distributed to a qualified charity can be counted toward your required minimum distribution. All distributions received will be posted in your parish stewardship. Please check with your tax advisor to see if this type of charitable giving will make sense for you.

SERVITE DOMINUM IN TIMORE

To all those who participated in this year's iGiveCatholic Campaign, please know of my heartfelt gratitude! Please take some time to read my letter regarding St. Patrick's Advent Appeal and St. John the Baptist's Annual Appeal. These efforts are vital for fully funding our budget and advancing God's Kingdom here in downtown New Orleans!

To continue my reflections on the early Church Fathers and their Eucharistic doctrine, I present to you today three Eastern Fathers of the fourth century. St. Basil the Great (d. 379), St. Gregory of Nazianzus (d. 389), and St. Gregory of Nyssa (d. 394) all spread the Gospel in Asia Minor, modern-day Turkey. St. Basil's writings indicate that the real change from bread and wine to Body and Blood is well-established doctrine. What he writes illuminates the already-existing liturgical life of the Church: Holy Communion is celebrated frequently and there is a calendar of saints to adorn the year. Here are his words written to a faithful laywoman, "To communicate each day and to partake of the holy Body and Blood of Christ is good and beneficial; for He says quite plainly: "He that eats My Flesh and drinks My Blood has eternal life." Who can doubt that to share continually in life is the same thing as having life abundantly? We ourselves communicate four times each week...and on other days if there is a commemoration of any saint."

St. Gregory of Nazianzus extols the glories of the Eucharistic sacrifice which he calls a greater thing than raising the dead. He then writes, "Do, then, the greater thing by celebrating the liturgy, and loose the great mass of my sins when you lay hold of the Sacrifice of the Resurrection. Most Reverend friend, cease not to pray and plead for me when you draw down the Word by your word, when in an unbloody cutting you cut the Body and Blood of the Lord, using your voice for a sword." Here, we notice St. Gregory emphasizing the sacrificial nature of the Mass. He says that this sacrifice is so powerful that it forgives sins. By this he equates the sacrifice of our Lord on Calvary with the sacrifice of our Lord, through the priest, upon the altar! He also contributes an important concept to theology when he calls the sacrifice of the altar and "unbloody" sacrifice. Such a notice is vital for a full understanding of the properly, "sacramental" nature of the Eucharist: a sign which effects grace.

St. Gregory of Nyssa sees in the Eucharist a kind of fulfillment of the Jewish temple sacrifices of old. In Jewish temple worship, the sacrifice of the lamb was completed when it was slaughtered then eaten. In a similar way, the celebration of the Eucharist allows us not only to be in the presence of Christ's Body and Blood, allows us not only to witness the sacrificial offering of the Body and Blood to the Father (by the words of the priest), but also allows us to complete that sacrifice by our individual participation by consuming the Lamb of God. Another important contribution of St. Gregory came from his thoughts regarding the nature of the transformation that takes place at the consecration of the Mass. First, he makes clear that the bread is transformed by Christ's word (and subsequently by the priest's word) from bread and wine to Body and Blood. He utilizes philosophical concepts to advance our understanding. This transformation, he says, affects the substance of bread, while still retaining something of its likeness to bread. His insights seem to be setting the stage for the later application of 'substance' and 'accident' to the Eucharistic species. He goes on to reflect how this transformation of bread and wine to Body and Blood is parallel to when God took on flesh in the Virgin's womb. Likewise, there is a transformation to take place as believers consume the divine presence at Communion. In the Eucharist, we are transformed! He writes, "In the plan of His grace He spreads Himself to every believer by means of that Flesh, [...] blending Himself with the bodies of believers, so that by this union with the Immortal, man, too, may become a participant in incorruption." ~Fr. O'Brien

ANNUAL DECORATING OF THE PARISH CHRISTMAS TREE

Gaudete Sunday, December 12,
following the 9:15 a.m. Mass.

Please join us in the rectory
for the annual Christmas tree trimming party.

Refreshments will be served.

All are invited!

FAMILY FUNDAMENTALS

"As we prepare for Christmas, it is important that we find time for self-contemplation and carry out an honest assessment of our lives. May we be enlightened by a ray of the light that comes from Bethlehem, the light of He who is 'The Greatest' and made Himself small, He who is 'The Strongest' but became weak."

Pope Benedict XVI

Lord, often times we perceive ourselves to be sufficiently strong and capable - without need for the Divine;

we operate as if we are in total command of our lives. As we journey with You this Advent, Lord, may our hearts be conformed to Your most perfect will and we ask for the graces to examine our lives and fully submit ourselves to the Christ Child.

VESPERS ON GAUDETE SUNDAY

Please join us for Solemn Vespers and Benediction on the Third Sunday of Advent, 12 December, at 4:00 p.m.

All are most welcome to attend this beautiful service of sung evening prayer and adoration.

MUSIC SPONSORS NEEDED FOR CHRISTMAS

We are looking for sponsors for the music at Midnight Mass of Christmas (Missa Brevis in B-flat by the brothers Haydn). If you would like to help us, please contact Andrew Mills by Wednesday 15 December, at AMills@arch-no.org, or 504.493.5879. May God reward you for your generosity!
