ST. MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle; be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the Devil.

May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Hosts, by the Power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. †Amen.

OUR FATHERS

As a life-long Catholic, my Faith has been nourished by many priests. There is one, however, whose impact I remember daily, even though I never actually met him, and our paths crossed at a distance, only once. In fact, I didn't even get his name. But that brief encounter, many years ago, continues to make my prayer life better every single day.

I had managed to collect a number of beautiful rosaries sitting unused in my jewelry box. I wanted very much to regularly pray that beautiful devotion to Our Lady but just never seemed to find the time. One Sunday, there was a priest visiting from Viet Nam who gave the sermon at our Mass. He talked about the power of saying a daily rosary and asked if anyone out there had been unsuccessfully trying to develop the habit of saying an entire rosary every single day. I felt as if he were speaking directly to me. Then he surprised me by telling us not to start with the whole rosary! His suggestion was to start with a single decade saying with a sly smile, everyone has time for one decade, don't they? Then when a decade a day becomes a habit, add another and another and pretty soon, you are saying the whole thing!

After Mass, to help ease into a daily rosary as well as raise funds for his church back in Viet Nam, this wonderful priest was selling single decade rosary bracelets. I bought one and couldn't wait to test his theory. I was thrilled to find that it actually worked and within months, I was saying all five decades every single day. In the years since, I won't say I have been perfect, but there have been very few times when I've missed my daily rosary. Every time I say one, I also say a prayer of gratitude to the priest who made it all possible!

OUR LADY OF PROMPT SUCCOR, HASTEN TO HELP US

Our Father in heaven, through the powerful intercession of Our Lady of Prompt Succor, spare us from all harm during these current times and the hurricane season.

Please protect us, our family, our homes and businesses from all disasters, especially those of nature.

Our Lady of Prompt Succor, hasten to help us.

~ Amen.

SERVITE DOMINUM IN TIMORE

From The Secret of Sanctity, last time, I pointed out the fundamental conviction of the spiritual life is that order is a quality of God by which we can come to reliable knowledge about God. Limited as our knowledge is, order makes such knowledge possible. Reflecting the divine, we are called to incorporate order into our lives as well, particularly in our spiritual lives. No meaningful human relationship is produced by following haphazard impulses. Therefore we must build a strong foundation for our relationship with God by seeking that kind of order which is proper to our state in life.

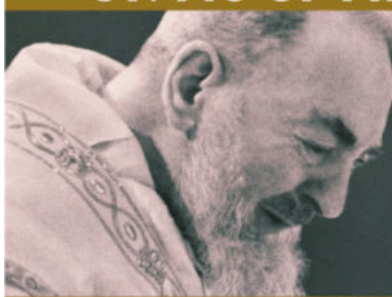

In today's reflection, I'd like to point out some of St. Francis de Sales practical ideas on how this order can help us build our spiritual foundation. First he ascribes a fixed hour for rising, giving a warning that time spent in sloth is time which could have been directed for the good of our eternity. Upon rising, our first thoughts should be of God; it is good to combine a morning reflection with a daily resolution at the day's very start.

Regarding how much time we should spend in prayer, he writes, "determine this time according to your occupation, your attraction, and the advice of your director." This means that our spiritual life and our life in the world are intimately connected. Other practical duties are relevant to the amount of time we can pray. Also, relevant is our "attraction." We do not need to strong arm ourselves into prayer, but we can be attuned to the kinds of prayer which draw us in and nourish us. If we prudently permit our attractions to aid our discernment of prayer, then we are ready to follow his next piece of advice about our time of prayer, "Let your heart take much more part in this holy exercise than your mind; and let the mysteries of the life and passion of your Savior be the usual subject." Prayer truly requires the whole person, not only is our will engaged to make time for prayer, not only is our mind engaged with theological truth, but also it is a movement of the heart whereby we encounter God's love.

De Sales is very emphatic on the importance of daily Mass. "Do not voluntarily deprive yourself, even for a day, of the inestimable happiness of assisting at the holy sacrifice of the Mass." Other daily practices provide for a well rounded devotional life: spiritual communions, union of one's daily sacrifices to those of Christ, a moderate amount of spiritual reading, daily rosary, daily visit to the Blessed Sacrament.

Recommendations for daily penance are encouraged as a vital part of spiritual progress. Of mortification he says, "...nothing is more necessary in order to establish in your soul the empire of grace and destroy that of nature." De Sales lists ways to do this: deny an inclination toward an act that is useless, direct your eyes intentionally, refrain from teasing others, "withhold a clever word likely to wound," do not seek to entertain sensuality, regulate innocent permitted pleasures, choose some small self denial at each meal, show courtesy to those toward whom you feel antipathy, seek to be silent under affliction. At the end of our day, our time for resting should be fixed and accompanied by an examination of our faults. Finally, "Let there be, if possible family prayer, that your petitions thus united may be more efficacious before God, and more advantageous to your children..." ~ Fr. O'Brien
