ST. MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle; be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the Devil.

May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Hosts, by the Power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. †Amen.

FAMILY FOCUS

Bob and Connie Holden have been parishioners of St. Patrick's Church for over 10 years. They have three children: Mark, Stephanie, and Elizabeth. Elizabeth married Peter here in December 2019 surrounded by St. Patrick's beautiful Christmas decorations. Connie's favorite St. Patrick's memory is hearing The Latin Gloria sung during her very first St. Patrick's Mass. Please say hello when you see them.

If you are interested in sharing your family's information and your favorite St. Patrick's memory, to be included in our monthly Family Focus, please contact Marti Luke at 504-525-4413 or mluke@arch-no.org.

Please allow me to continue to convey the reflections of St. Francis de Sales compiled in the work The Secret of Sanctity. We have already seen his advice on the role of order in the spiritual life. Once that order is sought, it gradually forms the foundation upon which the many elements of the spiritual life can be built. The order of the spiritual life touches every aspect of our experience as human beings. Consider his thoughts on how spiritual order can influence daily labor. He says that followers of Christ will dedicate themselves to their labors energetically and seek a pure intention in all things while seeking to contribute to the good of those around us.

Examining our intention while we carry out our duties is especially significant. He says, "Do not forget that the most indifferent actions acquire, through fervent intention, inappreciable merit for eternity." In order to keep a holy intention in our daily tasks he recommends frequent brief mental prayers such as, "Thy will be done," or "have mercy on me a sinner," or "Ave Maria" to name a few.

Spiritual order can also influence our devotion to the Sacrament of Confession. De Sales recommends confessing every two weeks and preparing for the sacrament in advance. This preparation should help us to accurately recount our sins in number and kind, but preparation should also excite within us sincere contrition for these faults. He calls the latter duty more important than the former.

Eucharistic devotion is of the utmost importance for the spiritual life. About the reception of Holy Communion, he writes, "bring to this great action all the devotion and care of which you are capable..." Since this moment is a true meeting between God and ourselves, we rightly seek to give it the highest kind of order, that is, all our attention and effort. That interior disposition which we bring to Holy Communion is most importantly humility. He says, "...remember that the disposition God asks of you is not sensible fervor, which is not always in your power, but profound humility and a sincere desire to be united with Him." While the emotions we experience regarding the gift of the Eucharist vary due to our fallen state, it is within our power to invite the presence of God in our souls and issue Him the humble invitation to be our King in all things.

Next, if we foster these attitudes in our individual work and our individual devotion to the sacraments, then we should also consider how we will be noticed by the people around us. Our witness of devotion should be an attractive one. He writes, "endeavor to make piety loved through you. Avoid with the greatest care that spirit of criticism, those little jealousies, petty weaknesses, and caprices which many vainly seek to reconcile with true piety." Spiritual order is aimed to cultivate the presence of Christian charity in the soul. Charity will help us to address problems with forbearance, to tolerate faults with tenderness, and to accept sufferings with childlike faith. He goes on to say that charity will aid us to find the mean between "unseemly levity and repellant austerity." Christians seek to foster politeness which bear the fruit of "delicate courtesy, thoughtful consideration and simple, modest bearing." May the prayers of St. Francis de Sales enable us to foster a sanctified order within every aspect of our lives. ~Fr. O'Brien

To: Clergy, Religious and Laity of the Archdiocese of New Orleans

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

It is our archdiocesan tradition to offer the Sacrament of Reconciliation, better known as confession, on a weekday evening in September. I am pleased to inform you that many people in the Archdiocese of New Orleans have taken advantage of this opportunity.

This year confessions will be available on Wednesday, September 14, 2022, the Feast of the Exaltation of the Cross, from 5:00 PM – 6:30 PM. Please consider inviting the healing Christ into your heart with his promise of mercy.

Pope Francis reminds us, "Confession is the sacrament of the tenderness of God, his way of embracing us."

Please consider having your family come to church together for Confession on Wednesday, September 14.

Wishing you God's blessings, I am

Sincerely in Christ,

Most Reverend Gregory M. Aymond
Archbishop of New Orleans
