PRAYERS AFTER SUNDAY MASS

Please join in!

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle; be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, cast into Hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Hurricane Prayer, Our Father in heaven, through the powerful intercession of Our Lady of Prompt Succor, spare us from all harm during this hurricane season, and protect us and our homes from all disasters of nature. Our Lady of Prompt Succor, hasten to help us!

PRAYER FOR ALL BELOVED PRIESTS

Oh Jesus, Eternal Priest, keep Thy priests within the shelter of Thy Sacred Heart, where none may touch them.

Keep unstained their anointed hands, which daily touch Thy Sacred Body.

Keep unsullied their lips daily purpled with Thy Precious Blood.

Keep pure and unworldly their hearts sealed with the sublime mark of the priesthood. Let Thy Holy Love surround them from the world's contagion.

Bless their labors with abundant fruit, and may the souls to whom they minister be their joy and consolation here and their everlasting crown hereafter.

Mary, Queen of the Clergy, pray for us: obtain for us numerous and holy priests. Amen.

SERVITE DOMINUM IN TIMORE

I present today the final two audiences of His Holiness, Pope Leo XIV on the Vatican II document, Lumen gentium, on the Church. Chapter 7 of the document focuses on the eschatological dimension of the Church. The Church is made to journey through history while always looking ahead to her final destination, heaven. The Church cannot be overly-focused on temporal concerns or the demands of the moment, but all is in the light of eternity. The eternal meaning gives purpose to the Church's action. The Kingdom that the Church makes present is an eternal one, concerned with lasting goods like love, justice, and peace. She does so with human community joined to a cosmic perspective of eternity.

The sacraments are particularly helpful to keep the Church intent on heavenly things. Her acts of love and service do more than establish a favorable earthly society, but because we receive our strength from the sacraments, our hearts are nourished by heavenly goods, aiming to advance a heavenly kingdom. In advancing a heavenly kingdom with earthly labors, we are then ready to understand the teaching that the Church is the "universal sacrament of salvation" (LG 48). Sacrament means a mysterious sign which itself is not a perfect representation of the divine reality, but joined to grace, it is a powerful image of it. For example, think of Baptism, the physical water used in baptism is not itself the forgiveness of sins, but the washing signified by the pouring brings about a reality greater than water alone. In a similar way, the Church is the seed and the beginning of the Kingdom of God whose members will only be perfected at last in the consummation of the world.

Because of this great dignity that the Church advances a heavenly reality, she takes with utmost sincerity her commission to create peace, assist the suffering and provide for the care of the needy. All the while she seeks her own reform, continual conversion and better relations with the other social entities of the world. Adding to the heavenly zeal with which the Church labors is the teaching of the communion of the saints. Our efforts are joined to theirs and their prayers support our striving. This reality is brought before us especially in the celebration of the liturgy.

Primary in that communion of the saints is our Lady to whom the council dedicated the last chapter of this document. To make present the Lord Jesus is the whole mission of the Church and our Lady was the first to participate in this mission. By docility to God's grace, we may look upon her as a perfect model of what the Church is called to be: unconditional openness to God's mystery while being united to the communion of His people. She is rightly called the mother of the Church. The document also calls her an icon of the mystery of God, meaning we can see in her a clear display of the action of God: His initiative of love and Mary's perfect response. This basic plan is the same for us all. Personal devotion to her, "in no way impedes, but rather fosters the immediate union of the faithful with Christ" (cf. LG, 60) By our Lady's example and prayers, let us participate in the life of the Church with charity: honoring God with our deepest worship and tirelessly serving His people. ~Fr. O.
